

Call for Applications

Launch your screenwriting career

NATIONAL RECOGNITION

Super Channel is committed to developing Canadian talent, so we are proud to announce that we are launching a program for unproduced feature film screenwriters. This is a great opportunity for emerging screenwriters to develop their projects and their skills with one-on-one professional guidance, and to get industry attention for their work.

Prizes

PROFESSIONAL STORY EDITING

Four winning scripts will be chosen from entries received across Canada. Each of the winning screenplays will receive a full story editing process with one of Super Channel's Creative Development Representatives. You will go through a four month story editing process that will result in a new draft and a polish of your script, moving your project one step closer to getting optioned and produced!

When the four winning screenplays have each completed the story editing process, one national winner will be chosen and will receive a table read of their screenplay with industry influencers present in the audience. In addition, all winners will be publicized on our website and in our Super Catalyst newsletter.

Do you have what it takes?

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

If you are an unproduced feature film writer with an unoptioned screenplay, and if you have the energy and time to commit to the development of your script and your career, let us know! We want to hear from you, so if you'd like to enter, please

“Launch your screenwriting career with Super Channel”

Application Instructions

Thanks for your interest in entering the Super Catalyst Emerging Screenwriter Award, a writer development program sponsored by Super Channel.

Eligibility

- You need to be Canadian or have landed immigrant status.
- You cannot have written a produced feature length screenplay.
- You must hold the rights to the screenplay you are submitting (it can't be under option to a producer).
- The script must be feature length (between 75-120 pages).
- The script must be in industry standard formatting (for more info on formatting, click here).
- Each entrant may submit only one screenplay.
- You must be willing to commit to a focused development process: at minimum, delivery of a first pass on the rewritten draft within two months of the beginning of your process, and a minimum of one additional pass on the polished draft prior to the end of your four month program. Of course, additional creative materials and additional drafts will likely be written by you during the process, and your story editor will review them all.

N.B. You will retain all rights to your screenplay, and the story editor will waive all moral rights in and to the script.

Application Materials

It's pretty simple. All we need to receive from you is your screenplay and a one page synopsis that includes the ending. On the title page of your screenplay, you must include your name, email address, phone number and street address.

Submission Procedure

To submit your project, please go to the Filmmaker's page of our website, click on the Super Catalyst Emerging Screenwriter Award banner image and complete the submission proposal form to upload your script and synopsis.

If you do not receive an email confirming receipt of your application within 24 hours, please call 780-430-2800 and report this to Ashleigh Hopkinson.

Thanks for your interest, and we look forward to reading your work!

Write "Super Catalyst" in the Project Title field.

All projects must be received by 5PM local time on Friday, January 15, 2010.
